

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. NOTE

This list of documentary material relating to state constitutional conventions was originally prepared for use in The Newberry Library in connection with certain processes of acquisition. It has since been expanded and certain features added in order to make it of service to the reference divisions and also to students who visit the Library for the purpose of investigating and studying the constitutional history of the several states of the Union.

The work of preparing and compiling the list has been done wholly by Dr. Shearer, a member of the library staff, in the course of his routine duties

FOREWORD

This list comprises all known publications of documentary material necessary for the study of state constitutional conventions. This includes official publications, official reprints, and documents included in other volumes (as historical society collections and congressional documents); but not material in legislative records, such as that providing for calling of conventions and for amendments. Debates which were reported only in newspapers are noted, but files of these newspapers are likely to be found only in the local libraries of their respective states.

There is, of course, a great difference in the importance of the works listed, the more valuable being the "Journals", "Proceedings", or "Minutes", and the "Debates". It is hoped that the list of the works of major importance is substantially complete. Of the minor items, it may seem that some are of no importance at all; but as a scholar may approach his subject from any angle, all publications, such as rules, ordinances, reports of committees, speeches, lists of members, where such have been separately published, have been included. It will be noted however that the major items are always listed first. The constitutions themselves are not generally listed, because they are included in Thorpe's edition of "Constitutions and Charters", 7v. 1907 (in U.S. 59 Cong. 2 sess. H.misc. doc.357) Certain constitutions, however, as those of the southern states in 1861, and proposed constitutions which were never adopted, have been listed.

The material is arranged by states alphabetically, and under each state by the convention or other body chronologically. Titles are in brief, and place of publication is given only when not at the state capital.

For convenience of reference each separate item is numbered even when a reprint or in a collection. Altogether the 615 numbers represent some 557 different publications relating to state constitutional conventions.

As the material is somewhat scattered in The Newberry Library, owing to the different forms in which it has been published, the Newberry call numbers have been affixed in square brackets for facility in reference, e.g. for the Alabama convention of 1861, "Ordinances (and resolutions) 1861. [J 5873.02]"

The location in certain Chicago libraries is also given, and following the plan of the List of serials in public libraries of Chicago and Evanston 1901, and Supplement 1905, letters are used to indicate where the material may be found,— Chicago Public, C; Chicago Historical Society, H; John Crerar, J; Newberry, N; Northwestern University, Nw; Northwestern University Law, Nwl; University of Chicago, U, e.g. for the Illinois convention of 1869-70. "Debates and proceedings. 1870. 2v. [J 4896.4345] CHJNNwNwlU" (This is the only case, however, where all seven libraries have the publication) The number of titles in the other libraries is doubtless, however, larger than noted here, for only their titles cataloged under the heading "Constitutional conventions" have been listed, and not their material included in other works.

Besides the copies seen in Chicago libraries, much help was had from certain printed lists, especially from R.R.Bowker's "State Publications", 1908, which gave with accuracy about 400 items; from the New York Public Library Bulletin for April 1904 (265); from the Library of Congress printed cards (259); and from the "Handlist of legislative sessions and session laws... and constitutional conventions", published by the Massachusetts State Library in 1912, which includes 295 items. Besides these, aid was secured from a number of special bibliographies, as follows,--

Bartlett, J.R. Bibliography of Rhode Island. 1864.

Cole, T.L. Bibliographies of the statute law of Alabama, Arkansas, and Florida, in Publications of the Southern History Association. v.1.

Constitutions and Charters. F.N.Thorpe, ed. Washington. 1907 (notes)

Evans, Charles. American bibliography. v.5-7.

Gilman, M.D. Bibliography of Vermont. 1897.

Hasse, A.R. Materials for a bibliography of the public archives of the thirteen original states (in Am. Hist. Ass'n report for 1906)

Massachusetts State Library. Catalog 1880, and Annual supplements.

New York State Library. Bulletin. 1894.

Owen, T.M. Bibliography of Alabama (in Am. Hist. Ass'n report for 1897)

Owen, T.M. Bibliography of Mississippi (in Am. Hist. Ass'n report for 1899)

Raines, C.W. Bibliography of Texas. 1896.

Seidensticker, O. First century of German printing in America. 1893.

Virginia State Library. Bulletin 3. 1910.

Williamson, Jos. Bibliography of Maine. 1896.

Writings on American history. Vols. for 1906 to 1913.

Notes of corrections or additions from those using this list will be gladly received.
